

Midlands Highway Alliance awarded for successful teamwork

The Midlands Highway Alliance (MHA) was awarded the Team Achievement Award at the Institution of Civil Engineers East Midlands Merit Awards 2016, which took place in Nottingham on 1 July.

The MHA's entry showcased their successful Professional Services Partnership 2 (PSP2) Framework, led by the MHA and AECOM Waterman. The partnership started in April 2015 and through a combination of strong leadership, performance management and detailed business planning, is on track to exceed some of the previous partnership's outcomes.

The award is a fantastic achievement for the partnership and we are delighted to have been recognised for our teamwork and joint approach to projects.

Catch up on the MHA annual event

Over 100 construction and engineering professionals representing over 30 organisations attended the MHA's fourth annual event at Derby's Roundhouse on 1 July - Expanding Alliances – facing the challenges ahead.

The event was positively received by delegates who found the programme which focused on the future challenges facing the highways and transport industry both relevant and informative.

Keynote speaker for the event was Sir John Armit, President of ICE (Institution of Civil Engineers) who outlined the importance of collaboration across the supply chain and the challenges the industry now faces following government changes. Vice President of ICE, Adrian Coy also delivered a review of the recently published State of Nation report.

Presentations and other materials from the event are now available on the MHA website.

Medium Schemes Framework 2 Quality Charter and commitments

By effectively managing processes designed to deliver quality compliance and understanding their commitments, MSF2 contractors can be confident of meeting both the needs of the framework and their customers.

To demonstrate their commitment representatives of the MSF2 contractors signed a copy of the MSF2 Quality Charter at the annual event. This can now be downloaded from the MHA website.
